DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT it takes organized effort to build a city.
THAT every citizen should be vitally interested in the civic business affairs of the home city.
THAT the business men are community leaders.
THAT their judgment should never be biased or warped by any disturbing influence. They should co-operate in a way that will move their city ahead faster on the road of progress.
THAT business interests should ever be open and above board and back every worthy project for the home city.
THAT they should be able to speak from knowledge and experience as to what is best for the home city.
THAT every citizen should back loyally to the end that the home city will be a busier and better city.
THAT every citizen should back loyally and in this way help local business, for as business grows so will the city grow.
IT'S YOUR CITY—ITS SUCCESS MEANS YOUR SUCCESS.

MISSCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR MISS GRELL.

Miss Hilda Bohmfalk was the charming hostess to a miscellaneous shower given at her home Friday, September 13, 1929, from 4 to 7 p. m. in honor of Miss Amanda Grell, a bride-to-be of the near future.

The color scheme of pink and white was carried out with regina corona and fern for the decoration.

Little Milton Joe Bohmfalk and Mae Bell Bohmfalk represented the bride and groom and led the honoree to her throne, while Miss Hilda Bohmfalk played the march.

After the honoree was seated Miss Alma Grell and Miss Agnes Wiemers sang "Where the River Shannon Flows." Then the "Spring Song" was played by little Miss Evelyn Knopp. The following toast was then given by Miss Irene Schulte.

TOAST TO AMANDA

Here's to the dearest, the truest, the best.
Her place in my heart is above the rest.

She's pretty, she's smart, she's cute and sweet.

She's honest—I'm praising her up to the skies.

But just ask Frank if I've told you any lies.

We wish for you dear, both happiness and health.

This you know is far better than wealth.

How great is will be to own a real man.

To do everything for you that he can.

What more can I say to you, lady fair.

As we bring to you this treasure chest rare?

It is not like the treasure chests of old;

Filled with rare jewels, much silver and gold.

But 'tis filled with real love and friendship true.

Portrayed by the gifts we bring now to you.

After the program the "bride and groom" pulled in express wagon loads of pretty presents, which were passed to the guests for inspection and admiration. Refreshments consisting of cake and ice cream were served to the following who enjoyed the nice hospitality of the evening:

The honoree, Miss Amanda Grell, Mrs. C. W. Grell, Mrs. L. Boehle, Mrs. Alfred Boehle, Mrs. Clarence Schweers, Mrs. Clarence Muennink, Mrs. Benj. Wiemers, Mrs. F. W. Bohmfalk, Mrs. Emil Bohmfalk, Mrs. George Bohmfalk, Mrs. R. E. Bohmfalk, Mrs. Andrew Schweers, Misses Alma and Florence Grell, Hulda Oeflinger, Margaret Reitzer, Eline Hordt, Anna Mae Filleman, Lysetta Hordt, Irene Stiegler, Mae Huckmann, Evelyn Knopp, Alice, Nellie and Ida Mae Saathoff, Erna and Nettie Mae Schweers, Lillie, Nellie and Irene Muennink, Ida, Emily, Luella, Erna, Minnie, Agnes and Alleen Wiemers, Mae Bell and Milton Joe Bohmfalk and the hostess, Hilda Bohmfalk.

SHIPS BROOM CORN.

W. C. Scott, one of the Hondo Valley's most successful farmers, on Tuesday of this week, shipped the first car-load of broom corn ever consigned from Hondo. The shipment weighed 16,675 pounds, was bought by the San Antonio Broom Company, and Mr. Scott received $80.00 and $125.00 per ton for it, according to the grade.

Mr. Scott has produced as much as half a ton of straw to the acre, and has found that on the average the crop beats cotton under boll-weevil conditions.

MORE CARS WANTED FOR MOTORCADE.

Mr. Joe Dillon, Director General of the Motorcade, informs a representative of this paper that quite a number of Hondo and Medina County cars have been entered to make the motorcade trip from San Antonio to El Paso from October 21 to 26 inclusive, along "The Border-Way"—U. S. Highway No. 90. However, as the larger the caravan the more impressive the demonstration will be, there is still room for all who can do so to enter with their cars. If interested see Director Joe Dillon, or some other official of the Association.

The officers and directors of U. S. Highway No. 90 Association are: Hal A. Hamilton, president, Del Rio, Texas; John Stovell, 1st vice-president, Sanderson, Texas; A. F. Robinson, 2nd vice-president, Alpine, Texas; H. Wren, secretary-treasurer, Del Rio, Texas; directors: Hal A. Hamilton, Del Rio, Texas; A. F. Robinson, Alpine, Texas; John Stovell, Sanderson, Texas; D. A. Bander, El Paso, Texas; W. A. Yarbrough, Valentine, Texas; H. Ray, Uvalde, Texas; Porter Whaley, San Antonio, Texas; H. L. Hoard, Marfa, Texas; Alfred E. Creigh, Jr., Sanderson, Texas; V. G. Deason, Brackettville, Texas; Joe Dillon, Hondo, Texas; Z. Monroe, Van Horn, Texas; Judge Jess C. Williams, Sierra Blanca, Texas; E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio, Texas.

Those participating in the motorcade will be furnished large celluloid buttons with the slogan, "Travel U. S. Highway No. 90, The Border-Way" with space on the button for writing one's name and address across it.

Other details of the program will be announced as they are made definite and final.

If this demonstration succeeds in definitely fixing the attention of the State Highway Commission on Highway No. 90 as a popular tourist route it will mean that it will be kept in a splendid state of repair and soon become one of the most popular roads in the state.

IT RAINED!

That is the best news we have had to record in some time!

Following several "attempts" at raining recently, attended by light sprinkles, Jupiter Pluvius got on the job in earnest Sunday night, and for the greater part of the night and Monday forenoon a slow, soaking rain fell. The ground was so dry and the rain fell so slowly none ran off but all soaked into the ground.

Reports indicate that the rain was general throughout this entire section, though the precipitation was spotted and varied from less than an inch to several inches in other localities. Locally about two inches fell.

While not enough to maintain moisture long in the worm, parched soil it is enough to help fall grass, and has encouraged many of our farmers to sow oats in the hope of securing early fall grazing.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

Correcting Legislative Mistakes

Some wit has suggested that it will take more than a 60 days' special session of the legislature to correct the mistakes of the last 60 days' session. As a matter of fact the mistakes were made by the voters in electing the legislative body. There are some strong men in the Texas legislature, to be sure, but they are so few that they are a helpless minority. With the regular session and several special sessions in which to gain experience, perhaps there may be some reason to hope that the next special session may accomplish something worth while. If any benefits are to be derived from the work of the penitentiary committee and the investigation of the incomes of county officers, which revealed the high cost of delinquent tax collections, another special session should be convened not later than January, for delay in such matters usually results in indifference.

Nagged to His Death

In the death of Land Commissioner J. T. Robison, Texas lost its oldest and its most valuable State official. He was nagged to death by his critics. Commissioner Robison made some mistakes in his third of a century of public service, for he held a position in which it was not always easy to decide as to what action to take. He antagonized many people, for he could not otherwise have discharged his official duties. His severest critics and worst enemies never charged him with dishonesty, but asserted that he lacked official discretion, which in most cases meant that he did not decide matters as they wished. While he died directly from pneumonia, he had been so weakened by harsh criticism that he was unable to resist disease, and doubtless welcomed death as a relief from the attacks of those whom he had a right to expect to be his friends.

Robison's Big Heart

Land Commissioner Robison was reared an orphan. His sympathy always went out to orphans—his heart and his purse were always open to them. He had four children of his own and reared fifteen orphans in the thirty-four years of his residence in Austin. No one will ever know how many others he assisted. He lived and died a poor man, so far as finances count, but he was rich in the good deeds rendered others.

Burnet County Resentful

A recent Burnet county grand jury made a rather scathing report of criminal conditions in the county and the report was published in a number of papers. The grand jury, in its investigations, had learned of thefts of cattle, sheep, goats and poultry, and of other offenses committed in the county, but citizens of the county say that these offenses were by outsiders, and they challenge a comparison of the citizenship of Burnet county with that of any other county in Texas. The jury report was calculated to create the wrong impression. It is doubtful if a dozen householders in the entire county even have keys to their homes, and most of the merchants have forgotten the combinations on their safes.

Hale County Dairy Cattle

Hale county has 14,164 dairy cattle, according to a recent survey. The survey did not state how many people live in the county, but there are about that many residents. The county that can show one dairy cow to every inhabitant is bound to be prosperous. Of course one cow unaided can hardly be expected to support a person, but with cows in that proportion there are certain to be hogs, poultry and other revenue producers in sufficient numbers to make life easy and a living certain.

Hereford Creamery Pays

Farmers around Hereford say that

MISS LOUISE SIGHTS WILL OPEN EXPRESSION CLASS IN HONDO.

Miss Louise Sights, of San Antonio, will open a private class in expression in Hondo the coming week. Miss Sights is a graduate of the Westmoorland College Expression Department, and was a student under Miss Bernice Hardy Duggan. While in Westmoorland, Miss Sights was a member of the Choral Club and was reader of that organization when it toured South Texas in 1926. Since graduation she has taught expression for two years in Lytle.

Miss Sights will give a reading or two in the High School Assembly Monday morning at nine o'clock. The public is invited to this as well as to all other school functions.

they don't know whether the local creamery, which started in July, is paying its owners or not, but it is paying the farmers $500 a day for cream, which is being made into butter and shipped to Chicago and other markets. They also say that they are so satisfied with the returns that they expect to increase the number of cows as rapidly as possible until the creamery is running to full capacity.

Swift to Start Taylor Plant

For several months the Swift Packing Company has been making survey of the country around Austin and Taylor to enable it to decide at which place to locate a branch milk, poultry and produce plant. Taylor was selected in preference to Austin because in addition to equal shipping facilities, it has a farming area surrounding it from which greater volume of products may be expected. Taylor hasn't more than a fourth or fifth the population of Austin. This is mentioned to show that it isn't size, but probable volume of business that counts with the big concerns looking for branch locations.

Community Fairs Pay

In almost every case where county fairs are successful it is found that community fairs have been held throughout the county in advance of the county fairs. There community fairs draw people together in neighborly competition and stimulate competition between the different communities of the county. Likewise, the Texas State Fair has built its success largely through keeping a large number of Texas counties interested every year in making attractive county exhibits.

Junction Invites You

Junction is an interesting place in Kimple county that is mailing out large numbers of circular letters to other Texas people inviting them to visit Junction. There is much of interest there for prospectors and tourists, and it has hotels and tourist parks in which to care for them and good roadways leading to the fishing grounds and other points of interest. Junction has found, as many other places are finding, that it doesn't pay to have visitors unless they are made comfortable and happy.

Mohair Clip Good

The goat people in Texas are having fine weather for clipping and storing the fleece, and with good prices in prospect they should be satisfied. While some growers report their clips short, a good average is being sheared. No other business in Texas has had a more rapid growth in the past five years than sheep and goat raising and no other business has proved more profitable.

East Texas Immigration

What East Texas has needed more than anything else is rural population. Through lack of roads and accessible schools, that section for the past has been largely passed up by immigrants who have gone on to West Texas. Concerted action has resulted in improved roads and better schools, and now East Texas feels that it is ready to conduct an active campaign for securing more country population. Increased attention paid to dairying and fruit and vegetable growing has helped to make East Texas farm life both profitable and attractive.

Mexican Imports Increase

Texas, and especially the border counties of Texas, are reaping rich returns from the improved conditions in Mexico. During the first eight months of this year the exports from this country through Laredo alone exceeded $25,500,000 with the probability that they will reach $40,000,000 during the year. With such a rich field right at its doors, Texas should secure a greater part of the profits to be derived from the trade with that country.

Correcting an impression about our USED CARS

WE HAVE sometimes found the impression prevailing that we will not accept anything but a used Ford car in trade for a new Model A. That is not a fact. Many cars—in both high and low price classes—are being constantly traded in for the new Ford.

If you're in the market for a used car, come to our showroom. Thousands of miles of unused transportation are represented there in cars awaiting second owners. And each one is priced at just what it is worth. There is no "price padding" or inflation to permit us to recoup excessive trade-in allowances. The price of the Model A is so low that excessive allowances for used cars are impossible.

You can take advantage of this situation. Act now! Come and see these bargains in unused mileage—

The Chevrolet Six delivers its power with that smooth, even, velvety flow which characterizes the truly fine automobile! At every speed, you travel without the slightest annoyance from vibration or rumble. Equally delightful are the comfort and handling ease. Four long semi-elliptic shock absorber springs, set parallel to the frame, provide the road balance found in the finest cars. The steering gear is equipped throughout with friction-free ball bearings. And the big non-locking 4-wheel brakes are quiet, positive and unusually easy to apply. Only a demonstration can reveal how delightful it is to drive this amazing car!

—so Durable and Dependable!

In order to appreciate the value of the new Chevrolet, it is necessary to remember what a really fine Six it is. Its design represents more than four years' development and testing. The result is quality so high that you can confidently look forward to thousands upon thousands of care-free, dependable miles!

PONTIAC USED BY MAN WITH BROKEN BACK.

His back broken, his shattered body in a brace and his feeble steps dependent on a cane, G. J. Jensen of Portland, Ore. slowly entered the salesrooms of Collins Bros., Oakland-Pontiac dealers, and announced he was in the market for a car.

Questioned as to his misfortune, Jensen unfolded the following story:

"Over a year ago I started from my home, 106 North Twenty-second street, with my truck. While making my daily rounds I was hit a few hours later by a much heavier truck at East Twelfth and Madison Streets. My truck was turned over and my back was broken, my head, leg and arm cut and bruised, and I suffered serious internal injuries.

Plaster cast, and the doctors told me "For nine weeks I lay encased in a I was lucky to escape with my life." Finally they braced me up, gave me a cane and I was able to get about. I even got back to my business, but I was handicapped in walking.

"So I suggested to my wife that I buy a car. She doubted my ability to withstand bumps and jolts. She may be right. I have looked around quite a bit and so far I have not found a car which was comfortable to me and which I could operate easily. I'm here to look over your line."

In a Pontiac Big Six cabriolet Mr. Jensen found the ease of control and riding he sought. He drove home in comfort, and any day in Portland you may see this broken-back man driving here and there, a living testimonial not only to Darwin's theory of the survival of the fittest, but also to the comfortable rideability and easy drivability of the Pontiac automobile.

During 1928, a large public utilities corporation operated 996 automobiles of 33 different makes. CIRCUS DAY TO BRING HONDO OF WONDERS SOON.

Greatest Show On Earth Will Exhibit

Countless Foreign Novelties—Herd

of Elephants, Zebras and Camels

1000 Animals. 800 Acre Performance

It was glorious news to young and old brought in the announcement of the early appearance of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey

Circus, with its thousand and one wonders which will exhibit in Hondo Monday, September 23.

The only five-ring circus in the world, with a Big Top seating more than 16,000 persons, will this year offer more new and startling than ever before in its history.

Not least in the attractiveness of the Big Show will be the presence of seven herds of elephants, 43 pachyderms, the majority of which are highly trained performers. They are likewise the largest herds of giraffes, zebras and camels in the city.

The menagerie of the Ringling

Barnum Circus is the largest traveling zoo in the world, and in gilded cages there appear every known variety of animal, brought from the earth's remote corners

agents of the huge amusement stitution.

And at each performance is to be seen "Goliath," the monster sea

phant, weighing five tons and 400 pounds of fish daily. During the past year "Goliath" has grown full ton in weight.

The circus marts of the world have been combed to produce for the greatest of all shows the most interesting and spectacular of acts, among which this year is the only Zachinni, "The Human jeffie," fired bodily through from the mouth of a monster train.

The Big Show travels on its four trains of 100 double railroad cars.

WHEN THE SERPENT STRIKES.

By C. T. Reed

For those who inhabit areas infested with venomous reptiles, this great fear is a perennial "kill joy" and the uncertainty in it only accentuates the horror with which we anticipate the possibility that we will be the next victim of some scaly murderer.

For the benefit of those who may not know, what everyone who is constantly in danger of snake bites should know, this article is sent out.

The old adage "a pound of prevention is worth a ton of cure" is more valuable than all else when advised on snake bite, and constant vigilance is the only way in which to secure it. A little knowledge of the snake and its habits will aid greatly in foiling the serpent and escaping his merciless fangs. There are about 71 different kinds of dangerous snakes in America. Fortunately, for Texans, less than ten of these are to be confronted in our state, and for those who live on the plains of south and west Texas the famous diamond-back rattler is by far the most dangerous and most frequently encountered venomous snake. It may attain a length of over ten feet when allowed to live its full time, which is not certainly known but is estimated to be between 30 and 50 years. It continues to grow as long as it lives. The diamond-back is an epicure in selecting its food and prefers young animals, rabbits, mice, cats, gophers, squirrels, and birds. During the day it is most apt to be found coiled in some protected place, but when the sun sinks low and the birds begin to seek a night's lodging in the shelter of the bushes and the small mammals sally forth from their holes in search of another meal, the sluggish rattlesnake also becomes suddenly active and alert. He crawls out and craftily takes a position beside some animal runway or cow path, there to await the arrival of his ill-fated victim. He has learned that along these little animal highways mother nature sends his supper; therefore, the most dangerous thing a person can do is to walk along these paths in the afternoon, near sundown where the admonition "keep off the sodden paths" is healthful advice and should be kept in mind by hunters and others who must tramp the range at this time of day. It is a fallacy to believe that the rattler always warns you before he strikes. He does not although some individuals seem inclined to rattle more than others. Snakes do not "pump" nor can they strike a greater distance than their length; in fact they can only strike a distance equal to the looped, that is uncoiled, part of their body, which is generally about a third of their length.

Venom or snake poison, is a pale yellow substance about the consistency of the more liquid part of egg white and is very similar to white egg for it is also an albumen. It is secreted by two elongated glands that lie on the side of the head just back of the eyes. These glands are equivalent to the salivary glands of man or other animal. The gland most frequently affected is the parotid. The poison is a powerful digestive, acting on kinds of substances, especially proteins, and when injected into the body it attacks all the organs including the blood cells and the nervous system. Due to destruction of nerve cells the respiration soon interfered with and in a few hours the heart is stopped if infection has not already caused death. The blue color accompanying a snake bite is due to arrested circulation of the blood and destruction of the corpuscles.

When a snake bites its fangs pierce human flesh what is to be done? To kill the snake? No. Run away? No. Yet it is a time for heroic action and a failure in courage means almost certain death. You cannot prevent some of the poison getting into the other parts of the body for in less than 30 seconds a little of the venom will be tried to every organ in the body; you can remove or hold back some of the poison from the blood.

If you have no handkerchief that will serve as a tourniquet, that is, a bandage, tear one out of your clothing, tie it loosely around your arm or leg a little above the wound, then put a stick through it and twist it tight. When this is done if you have a knife, cut a V-shaped gash over each fang mark. If no knife is at hand use your fingers or a yucca "dagger" and cut into the flesh in several places and in the wounds. Now you are ready to walk for aid, and if you are compelled to go quite a distance it is best to loosen the tourniquet for a few seconds occasionally. These are old and unsatisfactory emergency methods and anyone who liberally goes where the hazard of snakes is even slight should go prepared to meet any possible accident in the best modern ways. It has long been known that the venom of snakes can be inactivated or neutralized by most powerful oxidizing substances. The most effective "poison killer" of this type is "permanganate of potash" of the drugist or simply potassium permanganate. It is a purple black crystalline substance that leaves brownish black disorder on the skin and produces an intense purple color in water. It will inactivate three times its weight of snake venom, but when used in any but very dilute solutions causes sloughing of the flesh—better to lose a little flesh however than die from the poison. The permanganate may be carried as crystals and those put into the wound made with the knife or better it may be carried as a redish purple solution or a solution made up on the spot if water is available and the wound bathed in it or, better still if one is afraid of lacking the courage to cut himself with a knife a hypodermic needle and syringe may be carried. In case the needle and syringe are at hand, probe the fang wound with the needle sucking out any fluid that may be drawn out with it, then fill the syringe with permanganate solution and inject it into the snake wound and into several regions around it, and especially above the bite. (five or ten c. c. of solution should be sufficient). When this is done the tourniquet should remain on while going quickly to a physician.

In 1878 a man by the name of Sewall discovered that pigeons develop immunity to snake poison. He and others immediately set to work to develop such immunity in other animals and to take their serum, that is the clear part of the blood after the red and white corpuscles are removed, and inject this into non-immune animals and man when bitten by snakes. This serum is called "antidote" for snake venom is called "antivenin" and is prepared by many manufacturers of biologic specifics, that is, substances derived from or produced by organisms and effective in the treatment of diseases in other organisms. This "antivenin" may be obtained from nearly any drugist at the rate of ten or fifteen dollars per dose. The whole dose is injected into the body as explained in the directions and is sufficient to neutralize all ordinary bites, unless the amount of poison injected by the snake is very great, in which case two doses may be required. The "antivenin" does not keep well unless it is kept cold and therefore if carried in the field would have to be replaced by fresh material every few weeks, and this would be very expensive, therefore the permanganate treatment is perhaps most practical in the field at present and one should supplement it with the antivenin treatment by a physician.

Another very poisonous but not very dangerous snake of this region that is very different from the rattlesnake is the "Coral" or "Harlequin" snake. This is a beautiful little snake that is often mistaken for the king snake.

The Coral snake is a cannibal and I have frequently removed young rattlesnakes varying from 10 to 15 inches in length from specimens 28 to 30 inches long.

In view of the fact, that by far the majority of our snakes are not only not harmful but very definitely beneficial, everyone should know and be able to recognize the poisonous and the beneficial snakes. In general the poisonous snakes have broad heads, rather short blunt tails

OUR CREED.

Keep us, O God, from pettiness! Let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.

May we put away all pretence and meet each other face to face without self-pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment, and always generous.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight-forward and unafraid.

Let us take time for all things, make us grow calm, serene and gentle.

Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things of life we are as one.

May we strive to touch and to know the great common woman heart of us all, and let us not forget to be kind.

SAYS HE'S LIKE A MAN MADE OVER NEW NOW

"I feel like a new man—made all over again and I'm glad to tell the whole world what Sargon has done for me.

"For the first time in 15 years I am free from pains and feeling fine. I've gained too, and that's worth talking about, because I certainly was in a terrible run-down condition.

"I had pains in my side for three years and they were so bad I could hardly stand them. My blood pressure was low and people my age know what that means, because it brings on all sorts of complications like headaches, shortness of breath and low vitality. That's not worrying me any more for my blood has been built up and even though I am 52 years old, I feel fine and full of energy all the time.

"I'm through now with losing lots of time and spending lots of money on useless medicines. I know Sargon does the work and I'm not going now on."—H. M. Curtis, 725 Frey Ave., Fort Worth.

Despite the fact that Jupiter Pluvius made all sorts of, threatening maneuvers Sunday afternoon and night a large and appreciative audience turned out to hear and enjoy the fine program rendered by the Quikhi Luther League Sunday night in Bethlehem Lutheran church. Every number of the program was carefully prepared and rendered excellently. The program was indeed not only timely but also educational and inspiring: the choice readings teemed the splendid musical selections emphasized several great truths and with facts and wise sayings, while touched responsive chords in the hearts of many present. In the business meeting of the League held immediately after the rendition of the program the possibility of installing a better lighting system in the church was discussed. All were apparently agreed that a new and better lighting system would be timely and greatly appreciated.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Bethlehem Lutheran church will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting Thursday afternoon, October 3, in the Quikhi parish hall. Details regarding the bazaar to be held on Thanksgiving day will be considered at this meeting. The hostesses of the day will be Mesdames Fritz, Christian and Robert Nietenhoefer.

GOOD, FRESH HOME-MADE BREAD, CAKES AND ROLLS

DAILY.

CINNAMON ROLLS A SPECIALTY.

The writer recently attended a meeting of the Guadalupe Valley Beekeepers Association at the Hy. Brenner State Queen Breeding Experiment Station near Seguin, Texas.

The topic of marketing the honey was discussed by those present, and one signed up the Nueces Valley Beekeepers Association, which Mr. Coffey of this city, Texas, had explained. One of the signers operates some 1,600 colonies of bees near Lockhart, Tex.

By the way, what do you bee-men think of a Marketing Association? The honey not yet cheap enough for you? If not, then keep bucking against each other. You might get 2 to 3 cents per pound.

The writer has allowed the film-genius to get packing plants to the reels, so you may soon see your favorite theatre how the honey is put up for the market, and other things pertaining to the bee business.

The Juahilla Honey having stopped coming into the hives and the heavy rains having caused a lot of bees to bud out that were real honey bearers, the bees in some colonies have used a lot of the white sugar for brood-rearing, thus making the colonies very strong for the winter flow that has already made appearance in the hives.

A certain cheerful prevaricator described a kind of honey with a pronounced kick that his bees carried into their hives. He cannot fool us that way. Bees do not work on boot-leg whiskey, and they would attempt it they would reach the hives, because it is less than the one-millionth part of a bee drunk that a human drinker could carry home safely.

The prospect of a better price for honey is still, at this writing, very encouraging.

Therefore, whenever a bee-keeper has a prospect for a sale at home should sell, rather than hold back for future times. The future will give us more money and perhaps cooperative marketing.

TORIC LONG-HORN CATTLE TO BE PRESERVED BY GOVERNMENT.

That the long-horned, or Spanish, cattle, once so numerous in Southwest, may be preserved from complete extinction, the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture will maintain a herd on the Wichita National Forest, Oklahoma, according to an agreement made today by Col. W. Greeley, chief forester. The agreement appropriates $100,000 for the purpose. The agreement was signed by Col. Greeley on January 17, and is an item for their purchase and maintenance.

The department has for several years urged the necessity for a small number of these picturesque examples of the pioneer life of the Southwest for the benefit and education of future generations interested in their history, said Colonel Greeley. The Wichita national forest lies in the heart of the range of old Southern herds of plains cattle, and is a part of the region formerly known as the Indian Territory where now live more than fifty bands of Indians.

There also grazed some of the herds of these long-horned cattle when the livestock industry in Southwest was in its infancy. There are still a few living members of this once numerous breed of cattle to be found in Texas. The department for the Government will be assisted by expert cattlemen familiar with the characteristics of the cattle of the Southwestern ranges. It will be grazed in a pasture immediately adjoining the one occupied by the herd of buffalo now established in the forest.

LEFT-OVER SEED.

By Mrs. Irvin Pickle.

Henderson County, Texas.

Buy good planting seed each year, and if any are left we put in a place secure from rats and weevils. Many times they are left to plant over a piece of land where we failed to get a crop. If we had to wait to order seed before planting over, the seed would be late. They are also handy to plant over missing where the stand is not bad and to be entirely planted over. It needed for either of these uses, they are kept till the next year and planted.

It has been decided to plant the next question is, "Which?" Where the soil is sour and not practicable, alsike clover seed; it will make only one cut but usually a good one. Sweet needs limed land, which is left gratis from the Mississippi and west to the semi-arid country and if grazing is wanted or the land to be turned under for corn, can't do better than to plant clover. In the East also sweet does well, but the land may be limed. For hay or to maintain fertility in a rotation, nothing beats red clover. It makes better than sweet clover and yields than alsike, but must have better demand for manure in farming increased so greatly that we now in goat manure by the boat-load from South America. This manure is landed along the eastern coast, particularly Florida, and largely goes to making of mixed commercial fertilizers.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT AND CONDOLENCE.

Whereas God in His infinite wisdom has taken from our midst the loving and devoted wife of our beloved Consul Commander, Sovereign Victor Boog, we the members of Live Oak Camp Number 2300, Woodmen of the World extend to him our deepest sympathy in his bereavement, and ask that God's blessings comfort and strengthen him in his great sorrow.

Be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Sovereign Boog, a copy to the Anvil Herald and a copy be entered in the minutes of our lodge proceedings.

Signed:

J. W. L. HANLEY,
RICH. WALLRATH,
J. B. NESTER,
Committee on Resolutions.

MRS. VICTOR BOOG.

On Sunday morning, September 8, 1929, while her pastor, friends and loved ones were praying for a speedy recovery for her, the news, which cast a shadow of grief over every heart and brought tears of sorrow to every eye, came over the wire from Pittsburg, Penn., that Mrs. Victor Boog had peacefully gone to dwell with her Savior. She died while visiting at the home of a cousin, Mrs. Fest, as she and Mr. Boog were returning from a visit to his old home in Europe.

Mrs. Margaret Boog, better known as Aunt Maggie or Mother Boog, was born at D'Hanis, December 19, 1872. She has been a life long, faithful and devoted member of the local Catholic Church. She was married to Mr. Victor Boog June 9, 1891. They have lived at D'Hanis all of their wedded life. To this union were born five children, two girls and three boys. One of the sons, Otis, died early in life. Another son, Captain John Boog, made the supreme sacrifice upon the altar of his country while bravely defending its colors upon the western front Sept. 26, 1918. The other children who live to mourn the loss of their mother are Mrs. Oscar Tondre, Mrs. Louis Carle, Jr., and Alphonse Boog all of D'Hanis. She is also survived by her husband, Victor Boog, and eight grand children. She also leaves behind six sisters and four brothers: Mrs. Wm. Finger, Mrs. Lizzie Ney, Mrs. Louis Garteiser, of D'Hanis; Mrs. Emil Garteiser, Mrs. Toby Sauter and Mrs. Lou Heath of Hondo; Mr. Joe Fohn of San Antonio; Messrs. John and Jacob Fohn of Hondo and Mr. Nick Fohn of D'Hanis.

Mrs. Boog has been an active member of the Altar Society of the D'Hanis church for many years. She was a member of the American War Mothers, being vice-president of this organization of the San Antonio Chapter at the time of her demise. Her mortal remains were tenderly laid away by sorrowing friends and loved ones Thursday, September 12, 1929, in the Catholic Cemetery after her pastor, the Rev. Dean F. Maas, had held Requiem High mass in Holy Cross church. It was followed to its last resting place by one of the largest funeral processions ever held from the local church.

The good work and kind deeds done by Mrs. Boog will always live in the memories and hearts of the D'Hanis people. She always visited the sick and comforted the distressed. Her kind hands have always helped to cool the fevered brow of our sick ones, her comforting words have cheered and inspired anew the hearts of the downcast and her charitable, lovable and Christian life has been one of the brightest lights in the life of her many friends. Her life was very aptly pictured by the poet when he said:

"I live for those who love me,
Whose hearts are kind and true,
For the Heaven that smiles above me
And awaits my spirit, too;
For the human ties that bind me,
For the task by God assigned me,
For the bright hopes left behind me,
And the good that I can do.

I live for those who love me,
For those who know me true,
For the Heaven that smiles above me,
And awaits my spirit, too;
For the cause that lacks assistance,
For the wrong that lacks resistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that I can do.

Her kind heart and loving ways soon won for her the love and respect of her fellow passengers on the ship to and from Europe. She was always hailed as Mother Boog as an expression of respect and tribute of their love for this big hearted, noble souled woman.

As one who has known Mrs. Boog only a few years I can say that—
When I look back o'er the day now fled

At the things you've done and at the words you've said
And the ways you've helped with a heart so true,
Then I can say, "I thank God for a friend like you."

FAMED JEAN GOLDKETTE ORCHESTRA COMES TO SOUTHWEST

The Book-Cadillac Orchestra from the Graystone room in Detroit, feature of Greater Majestic theatre bill next week also to play in Gunter Hotel "Cave-Teria."

WHEN public and artist alike praise a dance—and concert—it's a pretty sure sign that they are the real stuff. The Jean Goldkette Book-Cadillac Orchestra, from the hotel of the same name in Detroit, enjoys that distinction.

The band, which starts a week's engagement at the Greater Majestic theatre next week as one of the features of an all-feature show is a most versatile crew. It boasts a Saxophone Sextette, a Trumpet Sextette, a Violin Quartet, a Vocal Trio, and four Vocal Soloists, as well as numerous comedy sketches and song novelties. They are Victor Recording Artists, and radio favorites from station WGN.

They also open an engagement in the Gunter Hotel's newest show "The Cavateria", on the 23rd of this month.

On the same bill the Greater Majestic in San Antonio, there is Rita Gould, the international favorite, and four other big time vaudeville acts.

The screen fare is "The Awful Truth", starring the brilliant stage star, Ina Claire. It marks Miss Claire's entrance to the talking picture field, and presents her at her best; comedy drama.

"THE COCK-EYED WORLD", the Victor McLaglen-Edna Lowe-Lily Damita all talking sensation, starts its regular showing at the Greater Majestic on September 28th. At the recent midnight show in San Antonio, it played to a turn away crowd and received the unanimous applause of the thousands who were privileged to see it.
